

DATA MART

What is the Data Mart?

The Data Mart allows you to extract clinical data, so you may analyze it for the populations you serve. Limited data sets will be available for two purposes: quality metrics and care coordination. Our solution allows you to quickly access information to enhance care quality and continually improve population health.

Who could benefit from using Data Mart?

Any entity responsible for the treatment, care coordination or quality improvement of a patient population would benefit from access to this data. This includes hospitals, practices, clinically integrated networks, multi-specialty practices, health plans, patient-centered medical homes, federally qualified health centers, accountable care organizations and others.

What clinical data will be available in the Data Mart?

The data in the Quality circle below is available for all members of your active population with whom you have a treatment or contractual relationship. It includes a comprehensive patient-centric view of 28 measures for five chronic conditions: heart disease, diabetes, back pain, pre/post-natal care, and preventive care. Additional data is available for patients flagged as emerging, high or intensive risk as shown in the Care Coordination circle below. Data with a check mark reflect discrete data while those with a bullet are textual reports.

How do you access the data?

CliniSync encourages all participants to contribute data to the HIE to fill in gaps of care. Anyone who wants to access the Data Mart -- regardless of data format (clinical, claims, pharmacy, etc.) – must contribute data.

What are the benefits of the Data Mart?

The Data Mart allows you to:

- Access a comprehensive, patient-centric view of your population through the past year, which is refreshed every day.
- Leverage a single connection to access clinical data for quality and care improvement, rather than supporting one-off exchanges with others responsible for care.
- Identify insights and trends that will help you improve the health of your population.
- Zero in on your most chronic cases to improve outcomes and reduce expenses.
- Access clinical data to benchmark and improve your quality measures.
- Successfully participate in value-based care programs.
